

1. IWGPVfV Quo vadis?

There was a basic discussion about the future of the working group. This discussion was initiated by Claude Bragard as the number of participants was lowest compared to all other meetings. The discussion resulted in the resolution to continue the activities of the group.

2. Next symposium

A delegation from Japan (Yukio Shirako/Tetsuo Maoka) volunteered to host the next meeting in Japan. It was suggested that it should be held in 2013 when the ICPP congress will be in Beijing (August 25-31) to make it easier for the participants to attend both. A short survey revealed that only a few participants see an advantage and an opportunity in the coincidence. The chairman decided to make this topic a matter of the committee.

3. The Committee

Mike Adams is a longterm and very deserving member of the committee. He also hosts the groups website at Rothamsted. Since some time he couldn't attend our meetings and the question raised if he agrees to pass his committee membership and duty over to others. After his positive answer it was suggested to move the website hosting to the ETH and welcome Claude Bragard as the new committee member which was accepted by the participants. A big thank you goes to Mike.

4. Website

As mentioned before the website moves to the ETH in Zürich and is hosted by Ueli Merz. The URL is: "www.iwgpvfv.ethz.ch".

5. Miscellaneous

Ueli Merz will collect all the proceedings, produce the layout of the booklet and send it to Charlie Rush for printing. He will send a reminder to the speakers.
